VIOLENCE CONTINUING IN BRAZIL

Air Force Helicopter Stops Here

Dem Party Chief To Testify In Tennessee Power Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, who calls the plan "a raw deal," will have the chance Sept. 2 to tell Congress what he finds wrong with the administration's controversial contract for private power in Tennessee.

Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, wired Mitchell yesterday an invitation to testify on "any evidence of malfeasance or impropriety."

Mitchell was being asked to appear, Cole told the Democratic chairman, "in view of your repeated intemperate charges against President Eisenhower in this matter."

Mitchell promptly replied he was "glad" to accept the invitation and added:

"I am troubled however by your telegram which characterizes my questions as 'intemperate charges.' This would seem to indicate that in advance of a hearing you have prejudged this case in such a way as to raise doubts over your ability to conduct an impartial hearing."

MITCHELL'S appearance before the committee seemed certain to mark a fresh round in the swirling dispute over President Eisenhower's order directing the AEC to contract with a private utility combine for power to be delivered over Tennessee Valley Authority lines to the Memphis, Tenn., area. TVA is to deliver power in turn to the AEC plant at Paducah, Ky.

The $107 million contract, which must still get the committee's OK, was a major issue during the Senate's marathon debate over new atomic energy legislation. Congress wound up okaying a provision which would specifically allow the contract.

Mitchell took up the issue in Chicago last week, intimating among other things that Eisenhower's friendship with golfer Bobby Jones influenced the award to the power combine, known as the Dixon-Yates group.

Eisenhower said he rejected innuendoes that friendship was a factor, and Mitchell said he accepted Jones' statement that he did not discuss the matter with the President.

However, the Democratic chairman repeated his questions about the contract, saying it was going to "cost the public millions of dollars." He added that his primary objection to the deal is that "only one" bid was considered in letting the proposed contract.

Anti-Racketeering Probe Scheduled

CLEVELAND (AP)—Charges of corruption in labor unions will be aimed tomorrow at a closed hearing of the House anti-racketeering subcommittee.

A spokesman for Rep. George H. Bender of Cleveland, chairman of the subcommittee, said he could not discuss the nature of the material to be studied. Sixteen organizations and 14 persons have been subpoenaed to appear with "books and records."

The spokesman said it was the general practice of the group to hold executive sessions when receiving books and records. "We plan to hold open hearings in the near future," he added.

Doc Uses Scotch Tape For Stitches

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Colorado doctor today reported successful use of Scotch tape as a relatively painless substitute for surgical stitches in closing minor cuts.

Dr. Paul Williamson of Walsh, Colo., said he got excellent results in treating 104 lacerations, 91 of them deep enough to penetrate the deep fascia, the layer of connective tissue that binds the muscles together.

His clinic has now done away with skin stitching in more than 95 per cent of laceration cases, using the tape method instead.

Hizzoner Once Was A Boy, Too

RIPLEY, Tenn. (AP)—The judge found it easy to dispose of the case when three boys were brought in yesterday accused of stealing melons from a farmer's patch.

Judge J. R. Lewis rapped his gavel. "Anybody in here who never stole a single watermelon when he was a boy, let him raise his hand," he ordered.

Sheriff Willard Norvell, County Atty. John Sanford, three highway patrolmen, court employees and spectators put their hands in their pockets. Case dismissed.

Navy Studies Chance Of Red Atomic Sub

WASHINGTON (AP)—The ranking American admiral in the Pacific could have been thinking about possible Russian development of an atomic submarine when he said there were no unusual Soviet submarine operations there "that we can talk about."

The Navy here is not trying to answer any of the provocative questions raised by the remark made this week by Adm. Felix B. Stump, Pacific commander in Chief. Pentagon officials merely point to the long line of warnings made from Washington in recent years about Russia's estimated strength of some 350 to 400 submarines.

Stump said about 100 were in the Pacific.

The existence of hundreds of Soviet submarines is not in itself sufficient cause for the frequently voiced official concern, for most of them are known to be old types, suitable primarily for close-in coastal defense in waters such as the Baltic and Black Seas.

Pentagon informants say, however, that the Soviets have been working intensively for years on atomic power for vessels and probably other war machines. They say the Russian search began at least as soon as the United States made it known that atomic power could be applied and that this country was going ahead with a nuclear powered submarine.

Midget Parents Have First Baby

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dixon, this city's smallest parents, have taken their first child home from the hospital.

The baby, Debra Jo, weighed 5 pounds 14 ounces when born by Caesarean section Aug. 10 at French Hospital. The parents are each 3 feet 11. Dixon is 35, his wife 37. The hospital sent the mother and child home yesterday.

No Curtailing Of McCarthy 'Trial' Pledged

Probe Leader Promises To Keep Door Open on Witnesses, Accusations

WASHINGTON (AP)—When the bipartisan Senate committee starts its "trial" of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) next Tuesday, the door will be open insofar as number of witnesses and number of accusations against the Wisconsin solon is concerned.

The committee's public hearings will be based at the outset on five classes of charges. Indications are the six-member group plans to take testimony from relatively few witnesses.

However, Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) made clear that the committee was keeping a free hand to expand the number of charges it will inquire into and the witnesses it will call.

"We're not going to close the door," he said.

In announcing yesterday that the committee had decided to conduct hearings initially on five categories of charges, Watkins said they seemed to be "the most important" of 46 which were submitted by Senators Flanders (R-Vt), Fulbright (D-Ark) and Morse (Ind-Ore).

HE ALSO OBSERVED that the evidence relating to them is already a matter of public record. Reached at La Jolla, Calif., where he is vacationing, McCarthy said he had no comment on the roster of charges.

Watkins said that if the committee can use existing records the hearings will not take as long as if it had to call witnesses to gather its evidence.

Among questions still unanswered, however, are how many witnesses McCarthy will ask to have called, what subjects he will open up in presenting his defense and how rigorous he and his counsel will be in cross-examination.

The resolution of censure was introduced by Flanders, who asked the Senate to condemn McCarthy's conduct on the ground that it was unbecoming a senator and brought the Senate into disrepute.

Flanders subsequently filed 33 separate specifications. Seven others were submitted by Fulbright and six by Morse.

The special bipartisan investigating committee said yesterday that out of these 46 charges, it has grouped 13 under five different headings:

1. That McCarthy showed contempt for the Senate by his failure to appear to answer accusations before a Senate Rules subcommittee that investigated his financial affairs in 1951-52.

2. INCIDENTS of encouragement of United States employees to violate the law and their oaths of office or executive orders.

3. Incidents involving receipt or use of confidential or classified documents or other confidential information from executive files.

4. Incidents involving abuses of colleagues in the Senate.

5. That McCarthy abused Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker, then commanding general at Camp Kilmer, N. J., during an investigation of the promotion and discharge of Maj. Irving Peress, characterized by McCarthy as a "Fifth Amendment Communist."

Further Study Of Anti-Red Laws Urged By Dem Backer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) proposed today that the next Congress take time to do "a thorough and resolute" job in revising the laws curbing Communists, including a bill signed yesterday by President Eisenhower.

Eisenhower said in signing a measure which would strip the Communist party of its legal rights that further study will be required to determine its full impact on the enforcement of laws already on the books.

As one of the Democrats who helped put across the measure in the face of Republican opposition to attaching it to another bill, Jackson said he regards the legislation as being open to possibly extensive revisions when the next Congress meets.

"I hope that when we return in January we can do a thorough and resolute job in dealing with the

Guess What City's Population is Now

Washington C. H. Still Growing

An increase of 1,206 in the population of Washington C. H. and its immediate environs in the last three years to bring the total up to 13,382 today was reported by R. L. Polk & Co. of Cincinnati, publishers of the new directory which is now being delivered to subscribers.

The 1950 U. S. census placed the population of the city proper at 10,500 and the following year, the Polk directory listed 12,176 names of residents of the city and the residential areas just over the corporation line but still actually a part of the city.

This year's directory lists the names of 13,382 names in the same general area. A spokesman for Polk & Co. said the count "Considers the combined names of man and wife as only one name."

Some of the special features of the new directory are the designation of owner-occupied and rented homes, marital status, wives' names and places of business having telephones.

The directory shows that the city has 270 distinct, or primary lines of enterprise and they have been catalogued in the directory's classified pages from "accountants" to "wool dealers." Classifications run the gamut from the very new, like television, to the very old, like Blacksmith.

The Chamber of Commerce has provided a statistical story of the city which shows the area to be about 3 square miles; and altitude of 975 feet above sea level; the average temperature of 47 degrees; an average rainfall of 36.63 inches a year; three railroads; three hotels; with a total of 190 rooms; modern motels just outside the city limits; five elementary schools and a Junior-senior high school; 15 churches of 9 denominations; a public library with more than 30,000 volumes; two banks, a daily newspaper; 15 manufacturing plants, a country club with a golf course; a swimming pool and a public park on city-owned land.

Copies of the new directory are now being distributed to replace the old 1951 edition.

Thumbnail records of all adult residents of the city, firms and institutions are in the directory and the publishers say they can be found no place else.

'Saucerman' Pays Surprise Call To Norway Berry Patch

OSLO (AP)—Two Norwegian women claim they not only had a close look at a flying saucer but they talked to its "dark-skinned, long-haired" pilot. Skeptical police have launched an investigation.

This was their account: "We were picking berries when suddenly a dark man with long hair—but otherwise looking very much like an ordinary human being—came out from behind some bushes.

Motjell, in northern Norway.

Their story was published yesterday by the local paper Nordlands Folkeblad.

"We were frightened at first, but the man appeared very friendly, and stepped toward us."

One of them addressed him in English, French, German and Norwegian. "He didn't seem to understand a word."

The stranger then attempted to communicate by drawing "circles and what looked like pictures of heavenly bodies" on a piece of paper. The stranger finally led them to his craft, which looked like "two deep saucers sandwiched together," about 15 feet across.

The mystery man opened a hatch and crawled into the disc. Moments later the craft "rose from the ground and began rotating, first slowly, then increasingly faster. Then, suddenly, it disappeared at an incredible speed."

School Districts Set But 66 Pupils To Be Transferred from Two

Washington C. H. school districts are to remain the same but in order to equalize the size of the enrollment in the second and third grade rooms and to relieve some of the pupil congestion at the Sunnyside and Eastside schools at least 66 boys and girls have been transferred from these two districts to the other three elementary schools in the city—Central, Cherry Hill and Rose Avenue.

This was decided on Tuesday evening by Supt. W. A. Smith and the principals of the five schools after long and complicated meetings Monday and Tuesday afternoons.

The five principals at the meetings were Miss Helen Skaggs of Central, Miss Opal Davis (former principal of Cherry Hill who was sitting in on the conference for Earl Miller, her successor, who has not yet arrived), Leo Whiteside of Sunnyside, Mrs. Ruth Hopkins of Eastside and Hugh Rea of Rose Avenue.

Those who go from Sunnyside to Rose Avenue will get the bus at corner of Oak and Harrison; Elm and Sycamore; North and Circle and east of DT&I Railroad crossing on Circle Avenue.

The bus will stop to pick up the five pupils that go from Sunnyside to Central at the center of Albin Avenue and corner of Oak and Harrison streets.

There will be no transfers from three of the five school districts which have been laid out by the school authorities with these boundaries:

ROSE AVENUE — The limits of the Rose Avenue School District will be bounded on the West by Paint Creek, south to the B & O, North to the center of Gregg Street, East on Gregg to the City Limits. All pupils living within these boundary lines and those who live on the north side of Gregg Street, those living north of Gregg Street on Wilson Street and Blackstone Avenue, plus pupils living on Campbell and Brown Streets, will report to Rose Avenue School.

CENTRAL — The western boundary of the Central School District will be the east side of North Main Street from the B & O Railroad on the north to the B & O on the south. The northern limits will extend from the B & O Railroad east to the center of Gregg Street to Walnut Street, south of Walnut including the west side of Walnut to the intersection of Temple, including the north side of Temple west to the intersection of Delaware, where the line extends south on Delaware to Ogle, south on Ogle to Washington Ave., east on Washington Avenue to Hopkins Street, south on Hopkins to Broadway, westward on Broadway to the intersection of John, southward on John to the rear of the 500 block facing Broadway, west to the intersection of Sycamore, and then south on Sycamore to the B & O Railroad. The southern boundary will be the B & O Railroad. All

Vargas Death Brings Riots Over Nation

4 Die, Over 30 Hurt As President Takes Own Life After Ouster

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Violence continued to flare in Brazil's capital today as a plane departed for southern Brazil with the body of Getulio Vargas. Troops fired on a crowd trying to attack the Air Ministry. Two persons were injured. In earlier rioting, two persons were killed and at least 30 injured.

Vargas, the country's strongman for 19 years, chose yesterday to give up his presidency by suicide rather than force. He fired a bullet through his heart after 58 air force and army generals forced the 71-year-old political leader to resign.

This morning while Army troops stood by, thousands of Brazilians followed the body of Vargas from the presidential palace to the city's downtown airport. The plane took off for southern Brazil, where Vargas will be buried.

Afterward a crowd gathered in front of the Air Ministry. Air Force personnel and the crowd became involved in a dispute and troops were rushed to the scene. Shots were fired to restore order.

The troops also prevented the crowd from attacking an automobile carrying Air Force officers.

CLASHES WERE reported in other sections of the city. Three persons were killed and 30 injured yesterday in clashes in Brazil.

U. S. diplomatic buildings and firms, as well as newspapers which opposed Vargas, were major targets of the rioters.

Rioters burned the office of the Diarios Associados publishing and radio chain in Porto Alegre, on the Atlantic Coast, heavily damaged the U. S. consulates in Belo Horizonte and Porto Alegre, and hurled rocks through the windows of the heavily guarded U. S. Embassy in Rio.

Many rioters, apparently sparked by the Communists as well as traditional anti-U. S. feelings, blamed the United States for fomenting the crisis which brought Vargas' downfall.

Obviously, too, the rioters were incited by the 600-word suicide letter Vargas wrote just before his death yesterday, in which he spoke of a "subterranean campaign of international groups joined with national groups revolting against the regime of workers' guarantees."

After writing the letter, the 71-year-old strong man put a bullet through his heart. Only a short time before, the 58 generals forced him to quit his post.

SINCE THE beginning of World War II, Vargas had been a staunch ally of the United States, first against Germany and later against communism.

Brazil's new President, 55-year-old Joao Cafe Filho, who automatically stepped up from the vice presidency, is regarded similarly favorable to the United States.

Vargas' body was flown for burial in his native prairie village of Sao Borja, in the state of Rio Grande do Sul in southern Brazil. Because he died a suicide, Roman Catholic authorities denied him religious rites.

Eight days of mourning were decreed throughout the nation.

An estimated 100,000 of the Brazilian masses from whom Vargas since 1930 had drawn his great support filed throughout the night past the bier in the presidential palace. They waited for hours in double lines stretched for 10 blocks on both sides of the street.

Warning On Thugs Slightly Late

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—The husband of a cleaning establishment manager waited in a car outside the shop yesterday, reading about a recent wave of robberies in cleaners. He made a mental note to warn his wife.

Inside, his wife, Mrs. Julia Veith of Belleville, was being robbed of $66 by two holdup men, who then fled.

Beating Is Fatal

MANSFIELD (AP)—Patrick Thomas, 24, of nearby Ravenna, found badly beaten Monday at the edge of a creek, died here yesterday. He had internal injuries and a skull fracture.

Union Official Is Clubbed To Death

CLEVELAND (AP)—A club-wielding killer dragged a 36-year-old union official from his automobile last night and beat him to death a few houses away from his home.

The official was Raymond Weirouch, a vice president of the CIO United Auto Workers Local 515 and the union's chief steward at the Iron Fireman Stoker Co.

Police today were searching for the murderer, who fled in his car after a witness started toward the scene.

The witness was Walter Hahn, who gave this description of the slaying:

Weirouch's car sped into the street, stopped suddenly and started to back into a parking space. Another car stopped at the nearby corner and Weirouch's car backed into it.

The driver ran up, dragged Weirouch from his parked automobile and clubbed him to the ground.

The president of Local 515, H. L. Sarge, said Weirouch had been a good union man and well-liked, and that he doubted the slaying had any union connection.

Weirouch was married and the father of four children.

Kaiser Planning $67 Million Plant

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. plans to start construction in January on $67 million mill on the Ohio River near Ravenswood, W. Va., upstream from Pomeroy, Ohio.

D. A. Rhoades, vice president and general manager, announced yesterday a 2,500-acre site has been acquired. The aluminum sheet and foil rolling mill will employ about 500 persons in the first unit, expected to be completed by mid-1956. The second unit will boost the payroll to about 2,000 persons, but it is not scheduled for completion until 1958.

Runaways Held

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two Portuguese seamen who jumped ship at Tampa, Fla., in June 1953, will be returned to Tampa for prosecution under the McCarran Immigration Act. Antonio Guerrerio Viegas and Joaquin K. de Luz were arrested July 22 while working as laborers on the Ohio Turnpike.

Polk Declares Report Untrue

Objects to Statements Made by Speaker Here

Representative James G. Polk of Highland, who is congressman for the sixth Ohio district of which Fayette County is a part, cut loose in Congress this week with a blast against Kline Roberts, majority leader in the House of Representatives in the Ohio General Assembly, because of alleged statements regarding Polk, made by Roberts in a speech delivered in Washington C. H. last February 4, when Roberts spoke here before the Fayette County Young Republican Club.

Polk refers to items in the speech as reported in the Washington C. H. Record-Herald on the day after the Republican leader made his talk in this city.

In a statement in the Congressional Record, Polk said Roberts, can be regarded "no doubt an honest and honorable man" and "probably was advised by someone else to make the statements. Polk said he does not know Roberts.

Polk labeled as "absolutely false" the following statements by Roberts as reported in the Washington C. H. Record-Herald:

That he was one of two congressmen who voted against defense appropriations; that he opposed barring salary of public employees who refused to sign loyalty oaths; that he opposed a watchdog committee to check government spending; that he opposed "in a great majority of cases" Republican-favored bills in Congress.

Polk, who is up for re-election, said his voting record shows he has voted most of the time in favor of President Eisenhower's bills.

A sixth statement by Roberts that Polk voted against the President's reorganization plan, Polk said is "one tenth correct," since he voted against one out of 10 plans Congress was asked to approve.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communist party in this country is on a rocky road now, but its fate is still uncertain even though President Eisenhower yesterday signed the act outlawing it.

That's because of the court fights which are now taking place and still lie ahead. Two questions may stick in people's minds because of the confusing way Congress passed this legislation in its closing days this month.

Does this new law mean the Communist party must now cease to exist? And does it make it a crime now to be a Communist or a member of the Communist party? The answer to both questions is no.

The law doesn't say the party must pass out of existence, although in time that may be the effect. It says the party is now deprived of rights, privileges and immunities which other organizations enjoy.

For example, it cannot under this law have candidates on a ballot in federal elections for Congress or the presidency. But it's up to the states whether they keep the party off their ballots in state elections.

Fuzziness begins at this point on what else the party loses. The law itself doesn't say specifically.

Government lawyers are still studying possibilities the law provides for action against the party.

The first government move, when its lawyers have made up their minds, may be sudden. The party no doubt will fight in court then to have the new law thrown out as unconstitutional.

The party is already in court trying to get the McCarran Internal Security Act of 1950 declared unconstitutional. Under that act the government found the party to be a Moscow agent or "Communist action" group.

When such a finding is made, according to the McCarran Act, the party's officers and members must register with the government. They were ordered to. Instead, as expected, the party began its court fight on the McCarran Act.

The Supreme Court by next spring may give its verdict on whether the party members must register or the McCarran Act is unconstitutional. Party leaders have indicated they would never register, no matter what the verdict is.

If the court rules against them, they can be jailed and fined for not registering. Their refusal in that event would actually kill the party. Therefore by their refusal they themselves, not a law, would end the party.

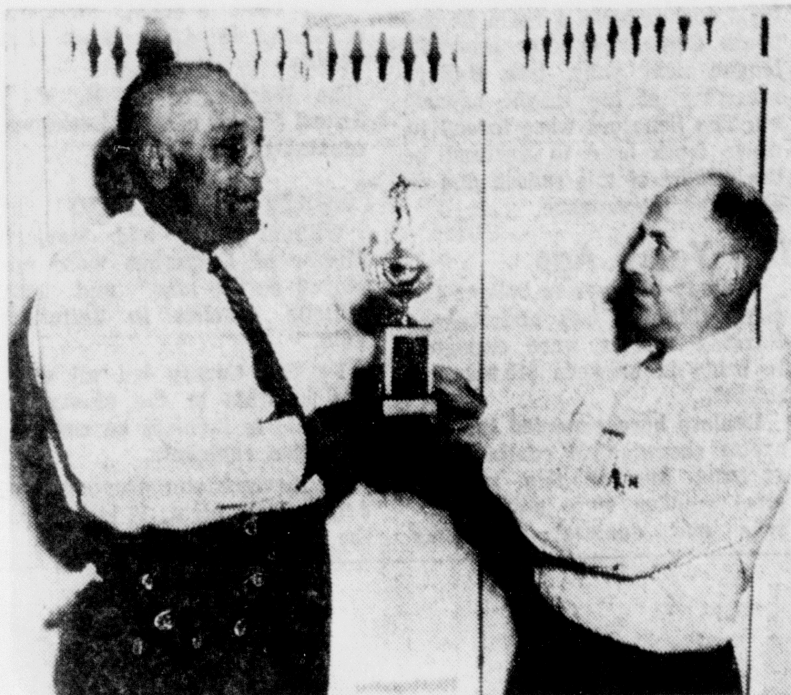

If that fate overtook the party while it was fighting the law which Eisenhower signed yesterday, the second fight would end in mid-air. But there is something else the Communists may try:

They may inject the new law into their present fight on the McCarran Act, arguing that certain language in the new law fortifies their contention that the McCarran Act is unconstitutional.

As for the individual Communist, the new law doesn't say his membership in the party is a crime but that he must — if the government can prove his knowledge of the party's conspiratorial nature — register as a member of a "Communist action" organization.

Right there the new law overlaps with the McCarran Act's registration requirements and may confuse the court struggle. But this doesn't mean the government in the meantime is helpless to act

Rotarians Hear Story of 'Tut' Jackson's Career; Fine Trophy Presented

SURPRISE PRESENTATION of a trophy to James "Tut" Jackson was a highlight of the Rotary Club meeting at the Country Club Tuesday afternoon. Shown above are "Tut" (left) and Rotary Club President George Finley discussing the trophy. Presentation was made by Frank Jackson. On the cup is engraved: "To James 'Tut' Jackson, the great fighter who made Wash. C. H., O. known all over the U.S.A. Rotary Club, 1954." (Record-Herald photo)

Some of the best programs which the Washington Rotary Club ever enjoyed, have been certain ones which were arranged without any advance fanfare or special publicity.

Tuesday's program, following the club luncheon proved to be one of this type when James "Tut" Jackson, former heavyweight fighter who put Washington C. H. in the newspaper headlines many times in the years of his prominence in the fight ring, stood before Rotarians and in his own inimitable style freely talked of many things that had happened during his prize ring career.

"TUT", NOW the ever-courteous, modest and friendly caretaker at the Washington Country Clubhouse, was presented to those present at the Tuesday meeting, by Frank Jackson, one of "Tut's" oldest and best friends.

The real payoff feature of the program came when Frank, in making a brief response after "Tut's" half hour talk, declared against individual Communists.

It can and is going to. There is another law, called the Smith Act of 1940, under which the government can prosecute anyone who is a member of an organization having the purpose of overthrowing the government by force. The Smith Act does not mention the Communist party by name.

In such a prosecution the government would have to prove a defendant had knowledge of the organization's purpose. It will start its first trial under this section of the act this fall. The defendant will be Claude Lightfoot, a Communist leader of Chicago.

The party can be expected to fight this case—if Lightfoot is convicted—all the way up to the Supreme Court too, on constitutional grounds. The court has never ruled since it never had a test, on this section of the act.

But it has upheld the constitutionality of another section of the act which the government used to convict 81 Communists on different grounds: conspiracy to teach forcible overthrow of the government. Under that section the government tried Communists in groups, not singly.

One of the attractions there was an athletic show where a boxer was "taking on all comers" and some one persuaded "Tut" to get into the ring. He was offered one dollar a round if he could stay three rounds and he did. That three dollars looked very big to him.

SOON AFTERWARD he began to do some local boxing in a wrestling arena started here in second floor room in a business block on East Court Street. Later he began to box with fighters from other nearby towns.

Jackson was then young, vigorous and a terrifically hard puncher. He soon gained fame which went beyond the confines of this immediate region. He knocked out Jack Dyer in a ring before a large crowd at the ball park here and was then declared to be the champion heavyweight boxer in Ohio. He told of his fight here with a well known fighter, Jack O'Brien, when he knocked the visitor "cold" and a number of people in the crowd left hurriedly thinking O'Brien had been killed.

From that point on "Tut's" reputation grew rapidly. He was matched in other cities and sometimes fought as often as three times a week. He did part of his training by actually running from his training room here out Route 22 to Johnson's Crossing and back.

In 1922 he met the famous Sam Langford, a noted colored fighter, in Dayton, and knocked him out in the fifth round. From then on he was highlighted in many important fights over the country, finally being matched with the then famous Harry Wills, colored heavyweight challenger for the world's championship, before a crowd of 27,000 people.

This was a fight to which "Tut" was brought up before he was entirely ready for such a contest.

He weighed about 188 pounds and Wills was an older, more experienced fighter weighing in at 227 pounds. Wills is alleged to have used the "rabbit punch" and other questionable methods to down the Washington C. H. fighter, according to the opinion of most local people who saw the fight. It was stopped in the third round with the decision going to Wills.

The fight came as an almost overwhelming surprise to "Tut" who found difficulty in getting to his feet. With shining eyes he uttered a quiet "Thank You".

That "Tut" Jackson is popular with Rotarians was shown by the fact that after his talk and again after the trophy presentation, the applause was longer and more spontaneous than has been heard after any program heard before this group in a long time.

After he really got started and gave up paying attention to his notes, the speaker really "went to town" in relating some of the hundreds of experiences he had in the ring and out. During his fighting career he was in the ring 306 times in actual fistic combat.

He told how he got started when he slipped away one afternoon from his work in a store here back in 1919 and went to the County Fair fight was called off after an interesting trial brought on by protests of a group of local citizens, before Common Pleas Judge Charles Reid. This attracted wide attention. The court held the proposed fight to be illegal.

The Record-Herald Wed., Aug. 25, 1954 3
Washington C. H., Ohio

"Tut" says that efforts to fight Jack Johnson in other places led to eight other such matches being arranged between these two in various cities but each one was called off for one reason or another.

The speaker showed numerous pictures of some of his opponents, also his trainers, and mentioned many other things in his ring experience which held the closest attention of his audience.

In concluding he said that this fighting career had been a great experience but one he would never follow again if he had a chance to do so, even at the right youthful age, "knowing about it what I do now."

He declared he was glad he came out of it without any crippling injury and said "I do not feel that the fight game owes me anything even though I did not make much money out of it, for I learned a lot of things which I probably would never have found out any other way."

The applause which he received was quite tribute to Jackson who is one of the best liked citizens of this community. George Finley, club president, thanked "Tut" in glowing terms and declared "Tut, we're proud of you." It was at this point that the surprise trophy presentation by Frank Jackson took place.

In the Rotary preliminary activities before the speaking program, birthday greetings were sung for John Gerstner who made the usual youth fund contribution.

El-Ray Herefords
Win at London Show

Herefords from the El-Ray Farms of Ray Brandenburg and Jim and Will Braun carried off 14 ribbons and the grand championship female at the Madison County Fair at London when the show was judge Tuesday.

The eight head of Herefords taken to the show by El-Ray Farms took 10 first place awards (these included both individual and groups), three second place ribbons and one for fourth place.

The bull that won the grand championship was the one that the El-Ray bull had beaten the previous week.

Brandenburg said there were five herds represented at the show in London and he estimated that there were around 75 head of Herefords entered.

Milson of Lancaster and from Greenfield were Lowell Wilkin, Roy Vandegriff and C. N. Shadrack. Another guest was John Hanley of Columbus who came with his father-in-law Colin Campbell.

A $15,000 chapel-in-the-pines, paid for by an anonymous donor, has been finished at Hartwick Pines state park, Michigan, for non-denominational public use.

England's Attitude Arousing Critical Comment

Right here at home in our own Fayette County we have been hearing quite a number of people frankly critical of England's attitude shown in her apparent willingness to get friendly with Communist Russia and Red China. Doubtless she is expecting profitable trade relations by this move. This English attitude is arousing comment in many places in the "free world."

If, in spite of the whole world's knowledge of the Communists' ultimate method of world control, England persists in this attitude, she is making a serious error. Perhaps if she prefers to profit through Russia, it is about time we quit "putting out" every time our so-called English friends want something from us. England should be asked to make her choice.

Under the English governmental system, the "loyal opposition" is almost a part of the ruling organization. Where there has been a relatively close division of authority between the majority and the minority, the activities and efforts of the party out of power are often closely identified with the government itself.

In the present situation, the British Labor Party headed by former Prime Minister Clement Atlee is almost a second voice of the government itself, and its official actions take on great importance.

Because of this unique parliamentary background, the visit of Atlee and seven other leaders of the British Labor Party to Moscow and to Peiping has been properly noted as an item of major concern to our own country.

In conjunction with apparent easing of trade relations between Britain and Russia, the cordiality demonstrated on this trip behind the "Iron Curtain" and the seeming determination of Great Britain to play the role of world arbitrator on some program of "peaceful co-existence" must give Americans much food for somewhat indigestible thought.

If the British Empire is to receive substantial assistance from the United States and is then to utilize this opportunity to deal with Communist-led nations as if they were "good friends," perhaps it is time for Uncle Sam to take still another look at our foreign policy.

Our loans and hand-outs entire purpose has been the development of staunch friends and warm allies. If we are to find them something less than staunch and considerably less than warm, we may be constrained to look elsewhere.

Less Corn Estimated

As a result of the recent drought, the Department of Agriculture has reduced its original estimate of 3,311,493,000 bushels for the 1954 corn crop down to 2,824,078 bushels—a cut of 487,415,000 bushels. The 1953 corn crop totaled 3,176,615,000 bushels, and the ten-year average (1943-1952) was 3,057,464,000 bushels. The Department now estimates the 1954 wheat crop will be 977,537,000 bushels, or 10,784,000 less than the estimate made last month.

Raising 6 Kids Said No Problem

By Hal Boyle

VALEJO, Calif. (AP)—How do you raise a child in the 20th century, which many people are beginning to regard as the century of juvenile delinquency?

I asked that question of my friend, Wyman Riley, managing editor of the Gibson publications here. He and his wife, Marjorie, have the problem of raising six children. How do they go about it?

"We don't think of it as a problem," said Riley. "And we don't have many set theories about it. We like children, and try to make our home so attractive they would rather spend their time there than elsewhere."

The rollcall of the Riley offspring (and the Lord only knows whether it is complete yet) is as follows: Margaret 15, Ellen, 14, Brendan 9, Timothy 6, Michael 3, Sheila "going on one."

The Rileys live in a big, old-fashioned house, the kind that used to be built for large families, with plenty of yard space to play in. The house has four bathrooms, only one of which, Riley said, "is hung with my wife's clothing."

"Our home is big enough so that each kid has his own room," he said. "Each takes pride in his room and keeps it clean, and each kid has his own duties around the house."

"The older children help take care of the younger ones, and seem to like to. We are lucky in that we have two home-made baby sitters in our two older girls, and we pay them the going rate—50 cents an hour."

"They are a close-knit family. Wyman and Marje both believe their main duties as parents are to teach their children good manners, give them a religious upbringing and keep them busy in a wholesome way. They say family prayers together each night, go on picnics or clam digging parties together on Sundays."

The Riley home has a television room, and eight school desks, painted a fire engine red, face the TV set—one for each child and two extra for their chums.

"We don't ration them on television," said Riley. "The only rule is that they must finish their home work before they can watch it."

"Comic books aren't a worry with us. We don't have them in the house. Our children are great readers, but we started them off with good books, and now they seem to prefer them."

"Our two oldest girls are becoming interested in social activities. If they want to go to a school dance, we take them there and we bring them home."

"There is a wading pool in the yard, and space to build tree houses and play games. The children like to help Marge in her hobby, gardening. She has planted tomato vines and other vegetables around the lawn. That may sound crazy, but, well, it looks nice."

What about movies? "Our kids aren't particularly interested in movies," said Riley. "They don't have to go out of the home to find entertainment. They have more fun at home. They like to bring their friends home, and we encourage them to do so."

Few crises arise in the Riley household that require punishment.

"Restricting a child to his room, or cutting down his social activity in some way is enough," Riley said. "The important thing is to explain fully to a child why he is being punished and never to punish him until he does understand why. Then he will take it in good grace. Children have a pretty fair sense of justice."

"But exposition—explaining why one thing is right and another thing is wrong—works better than punishment. The mother sets them the example in most families, and our kids have been lucky in having the right kind of mother."

"I guess I sound like a pretty haphazard father, but actually our six kids are too happy to be much of a problem. We all like each other, and enjoy doing things together, and I guess that's pretty much the story."

What Is An Effective Congress?

By George Sokolsky

The National Committee for an Effective Congress is the directing agency for the fight on Senator Joe McCarthy, but what do they mean by an "effective congress"? The functions of congress are determined by the Constitution of the United States. Whether a congress is effective or not is to be measured by the quality of the work it does in passing legislation which is its main function under the Constitution.

Harry Truman, for instance, insisted that the 80th Congress was a "do nothing" congress which is an incorrect appraisal as the record will show. It is the 80th Congress in which Senator Robert A. Taft gave full evidence of his statesmanlike capacity; it was also the congress in which Arthur Vandenberg rose to heights of statesmanship. It passed a number of important measures in the realm of social legislation, particularly the Taft-Hartley Law which is still on the statute books.

The 83rd Congress faced many difficulties, including the fact that it had no working majority in the Senate and an inadequate working majority in the House of Representatives. It also suffered from the fact that the President's legislative program was not ready for the first session and therefore valuable time was lost. Nevertheless, the 83rd Congress will close with a good record of effective legislation, of considerable debate on important subjects, and of able investigation by its committees. The lack of a working majority gave the Democrats more authority than usually goes to a minority party but it also added to minority responsibility.

One of the tasks of the American Congress is to avoid being dominated by the executive. There are Americans who prefer the British form of government in which the cabinet consists of members of Parliament, making the executive and legislative branches of government identical. The prime minister is elected as an ordinary member of Parliament and is chosen chief executive because he is the elected leader of his party. The sovereign is not a political officer.

That is not the American system and unless we adopt a Constitutional amendment, it cannot become the American system, no matter who wants it. President Eisenhower was elected as president and not as a member of the House of Representatives and he has no Constitutional authority over the Congress, except to veto bills as he chooses, but they can be passed over his veto. Congress may impeach the president; the president may not impeach a member of Congress. The founding fathers seem to have thought out all our problems.

There was a period in the Roosevelt administration when the president's popularity was so great that few dared to challenge him. He got into the habit of sending to Congress "must" legislation, some of which was passed with barely a reading. A process of unending emergencies, some essential because of the economic conditions of the country, others devised for political purposes, justified, in the public mind, what Roosevelt did.

No such emergencies have come to the aid of Eisenhower.

Generally speaking, the country is prosperous and there is no universal war, although what has been euphemistically called the "cold war" is a new type of warfare in which the Soviet Union State has been extraordinarily successful. The United States has not yet caught up with its techniques and the American people do not recognize it as warfare. That is one factor in our national confusion.

Without the aid of emergencies, the president has no alternative but to accept congressional government which is the normal American process, set by the Constitution and developed over a period of 167 years, aided by decisions of the Supreme Court. Measured by this yardstick, the second session of the 83rd Congress has been effective.

It has been representative of the conflicts of opinion and interest in the country, which is its function. Fortunately, this is not a monolithic state and the Congress is not bound by the views and programs of anyone, including the president. The Congress is bound by local and occupational constituencies who elect its members to represent them or can refuse them re-election. Among these various constituencies there is a permanent conflict of interest on domestic questions and of opinion on foreign affairs. As long as these conflicts are represented in Congress, it is effective in the public interest, and the efforts of the Committee for an Effective Congress to make it more so seem unnecessary.

Glandular Swelling
Symptom of Illness

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Swollen glands are symptoms that call attention to many different diseases. Enlargement of the lymph glands in the neck, or in any part of the body, has a definite meaning, whether the enlargement be large or small. Lymph glands, or nodes, as they are known medically, are specialized bits of tissue containing a special type of cell. Their function is to intercept the flow of lymph in the tissues and trap the foreign material it contains.

In a Child

There is nothing unusual about swollen glands in the neck of a child with German measles, a cold, sore throat, or especially tonsillitis. The virus disease, infectious mononucleosis, which causes severe fatigue and lassitude and is often found in children, is one of the common causes of lymph gland enlargement. Chronic tuberculosis or syphilis may be responsible.

Curable Types

These are usually the curable types of lymph node enlargement. Proper treatment of the specific infection or cause will usually eliminate the condition.

When enlargement of the lymph nodes occurs without pain or tenderness, it is often a grave symptom. The swelling is then often due to some type of tumor formation in the lymph nodes, or to some blood disease such as leukemia.

Any person with an enlargement of the lymph glands that persists for three weeks or more should have a complete examination in order to determine the reason for it. Whatever the cause, lymph gland enlargement signifies disease, and the person with this condition should consult his physician about it without delay.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mr. M.: Are air conditioners of any benefit to sufferers of hay fever?

Answer: In many instances, there is much relief given by the use of an air conditioner, since the person suffering from hay fever then inhales filtered air which is relatively pollen-free.

It's Heap Big Chief Lausche Now

COLUMBUS (AP)—Just call him Heap Big Chief Frank Lausche.

The governor is an honorary member of the Ogalala Sioux Indian Tribe of the Pine Ridge Reservation in South Dakota.

Chief William Redfox presented Lausche with a headdress and adopted him as a blood brother in a ceremony in the governor's office yesterday.

Redfox is the son of Chief Black Eagle and a nephew of Chief Crazy Horse. Those two chiefs took part in the Battle of the Little Big Horn in which Gen. Custer and his troops died. Redfox recalled that the late Gov. George White of Ohio also was an honorary member of the tribe.

Couple Repeats Vows On Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Irwin Leslein

Tall baskets of yellow and white gladioli with seven branch candelabra formed the altar decorations at the First Baptist Church for the marriage of Miss Betty Jean Swayne to Mr. Walter Irwin Leslein on Sunday, August 22.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swayne of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leslein, Columbus, are the parents of the bridegroom.

Rev. Francis T. McCarty officiated at the 7:30 P. M., double ring ceremony.

A half hour of nuptial music was presented by Miss Hazel Engle, pianist, and Mrs. Arthur Engle, soloist. Mrs. Engle's selections in cluded "Through the Years," "Be cause," and "Love's Demand." Miss Engle included in her num bers, "Clair de Lune," "O Promise Me," "Tenderly," "Liebestraum," "Berceuse," "The Lord's Prayer," and the traditional wedding march es.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a waltz length gown of white Chantilly lace over bridal satin styled with a fitted basque bodice, portrait neckline and long sleeves, which came to points over the hands. The scalloped bouffant skirt was worn over an old fashion ed hoop and crinolines.

Her fingertip veil of imported French illusion was caught to a crown of seed pearls and tiny iri descent flowers.

She carried a white satin Bible topped with a white orchid with a cascade arrangement of lilies of the valley and white streamers.

Her only jewelry was a tiny gold locket, gift of the groom.

Attendants for the bride were Mrs. Mildred Vogt of Columbus as matron of honor and Miss Jo Swayne and Mrs. Freda Crosby, Columbus, as bridesmaid and bridesmatron.

The attendants were dressed in dotted swiss over taffeta. The honor attendant was wearing heavenly blue while the others wore yellow and they carried blue and yellow colonial bouquets.

Little Miss Sharon Vogt, dressed in blue dotted swiss, was the flower girl.

Mr. Robert Biete served as best man for his brother-in-law and the wedding guests were seated by Mr. Robert Swayne, Springfield; Mr. Paul Swayne, Columbus; and Mr. John Swayne, city, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Swayne chose for her daugh ter's wedding, a turquoise lace dress worn over satin with pink and white accessories. Mrs. Les kin was wearing a navy blue sheer dress with poudre blue accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception held at the home of the bride's parents, following the ceremony, included 150 guests.

The lawn was decorated with Japanese lanterns and pink and green streamers and the reception table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake, topped with the traditional bride and groom, surrounded at the base with silver lace vine and pink rosebuds. Other hostesses were Mrs. Charles Fen ner, Mrs. Robert Biete, Mrs. John Earnhart, Columbus, and Mrs. Edward Swayne, Springfield.

Mrs. Wash Lough, Mrs. Ancil Kirkpatrick and Mrs. John Case of the Washington Garden Club were in charge of the decorations for the wedding.

Later, when the bride and groom left for their honeymoon in the Peconic Mountains in Pennsylvania, the new Mrs. Leslein was wearing a gray silk faille suit with fiesta rose accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

The bride, a graduate of Wash ington C. H. High School, attended Bliss College and is now a student at Ohio State University. She is associated with the Civil Aeronau tics Medical Research Laboratory at the university.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Columbus South High School and attended Ohio State University. He served two years with the armed forces in Germany and is employ

Money Is Needed To Fight Polio

Men's March Here
Set for Thursday

No goal has been set for the emergency March of Dimes which is being carried on across the country this month to raise money to combat polio, but Dr. Charles Griffiths, the Fayette County campaign chairman, said he felt everyone hoped that this community could do its share.

Why is the emergency March of Dimes being held in August when the fund-raising effort has been made for the last 20 years during January?

Dr. Griffiths gave a few of the answers to that question:

Half of the 88 counties in Ohio are out of funds for fighting infantile paralysis.

During the week of Aug. 7, there were 104 new cases of polio reported in Ohio.

Twenty-six Ohio counties have received $200,000 from the national wide organization's epidemic fund. This year, $26,500,000 has been spent for gamma globulin alone.

At least $20,000,000 is needed to complete the serum shot test program for young children as a preventative.

After hitting those highlights, Dr. Griffiths summed it up by saying The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis "is just out of money to carry on its program of research and treatment."

THE EMERGENCY March of Dimes is a countywide campaign, the chairman emphasized but he added that because of the lack of time and the urgency Washington C. H. probably would have to carry its full share of the responsibility and probably a little more.

It takes time to set up a fund-raising campaign in the villages and the rural areas of the county, but the framework has been laid and the organization is taking form.

However, the chairman pointed out that contributing to the fund is easy—there are coin collection boxes in nearly every place of business where contributions can be made.

One of the big phases of the campaign is set for Washington C. H. Thursday evening when the Junior Chamber of Commerce will conduct the Men's March on polio or the Porch Light Parade, as it sometimes was called when it was the Mothers' March during the regular January campaign.

FOR THE Men's March, the Jaycees are asking the people to get their contributions ready, no matter how large or how small, and turn on their porch lights then some time between 7 and 8 o'clock a man will call and pick it up.

The city has been divided into seven areas with a Jaycee assigned to each as a leader. However, they will have to have some volunteer solicitors if they expect to get the areas covered with the hour allotted.

The volunteers could get in touch with the leader in the area they would like best to help cover.

Davis Ogan heads the district in the northeast section of the city;

Jim Stitt is in charge of the area between Delaware Street and Columbus Avenue;

Dick Arnott takes the area around Washington Avenue;

Bob Tice has the area around South North Street;

Dick Willis heads the campaign in the section between South Main Street and Leesburg Avenue.

Jim Lafferty has been assigned to Millwood;

Hal Summers is in charge of the central district.

83 New Rules Given Police

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—City Manager Robert E. Layton wants policemen here to keep their feet on the ground. He ordered officers in police cruisers to stop using the dashboards of the cars as foot rests.

Since becoming city manager, Layton has issued 83 new rules and regulations for the police department.

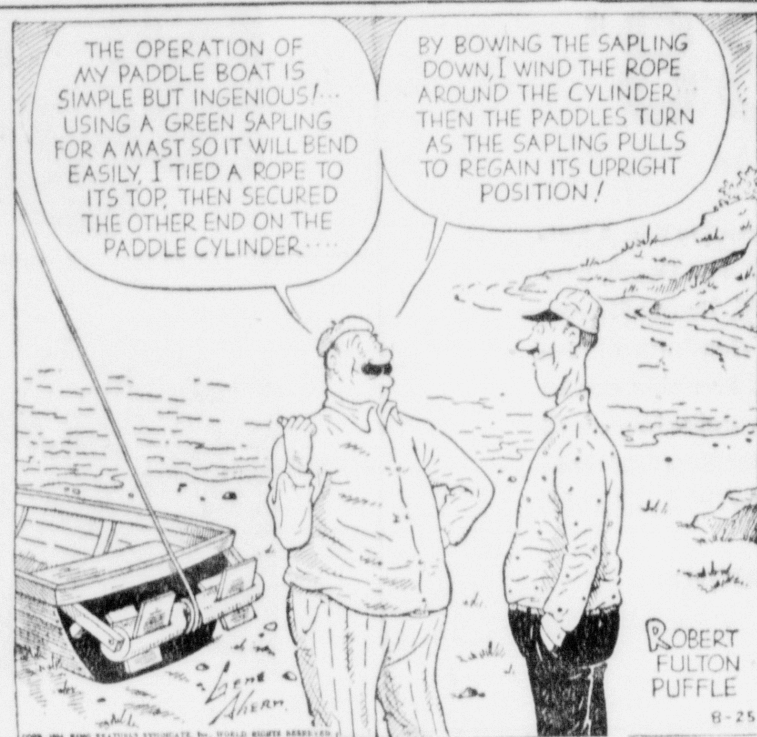

Among other things, he banned "mooching" of food and drinks from stores and restaurants. Along with a "dress up" order he furnished police headquarters with a large mirror.

To forestall any headaches from all the new regulations, Layton directed the chief of police to keep aspirin available at all times.

To Draw Jurors Under New Law

Grand Jury Will Meet
Here on Sept. 13

Proceeding under a new law, Common Pleas Judge John P. Case has issued an order to draw 50 prospective jurors and at the same time set Sept. 13 for the grand jury to meet.

Incidentally, the number of grand jury cases has been piling up until at the present time there are 30 of them awaiting attention. There are 12 prisoners in the county jail awaiting the outcome of their cases before the grand jury.

The number of cases is the largest in recent years and it is expected that several more will be added by the time the grand jury meets.

Heretofore, 15 grand jurors and a list of petit jurors have been drawn for each term of court.

Under the new law, Judge Case has ordered 50 names drawn from the jury wheel, the first 15 to be grand jurors, the 16th to be an alternate grand juror and the other 34 to be subject to petit jury duty.

JUDGE CASE'S order follows in part:

"It appearing that the Commissioners of Jurors for Fayette County, and related sections of the jury list for said county and prepared the jury wheel, for the jury year beginning August 1, 1954, as provided by law, and that this Court is required by law to fix the number of jurors to be drawn for the September 1954 term of this court, pursuant to Section 2313.19, et seq., and related sections of the Revised Code of Ohio, the Court finds:

"(1) That the names of fifty (50) persons, to serve as grand and petit jurors during the September 1954 term of said court, should be drawn as provided by law;

"(2) That the first fifteen (15) names so drawn shall appear as grand jurors on the 13th day of September, 1954.

"(3) That the sixteenth (16th) name so drawn shall appear as an additional or alternate grand juror, pursuant to the provisions of Section 2393.031, Revised Code of Ohio, on the 13th day of September, 1954; and

"(4) That the next thirty-four (34) names so drawn shall appear as petit jurors during said term of court upon notice duly given of the dates fixed for trial as provided by law."

U. S. Delegate Votes OK To Red Chinese

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—With the United States delegate voting in favor, the Congress of the International Amateur Athletic Federation today unanimously recognized Red China as a full member.

The voting was by a show of hands after a short discussion during which Soviet Russia's delegates and Lord Burghley of Britain spoke for the recognition.

Dan Ferris of New York, casting a vote for the United States' Amateur Athletic Union, voted in favor of recognizing the Communist-aligned Chinese and said:

"No valid reason was given me for not voting to recognize this group. No Chinese group was recognized until today—Chinese from Formosa or Red China.

"China should be represented in the IAAF. No one brought forward the Formosan angle."

The IAAF, however, rejected East Germany's bid for membership by an overwhelming majority. The only votes in favor of East Germany were those from the Soviet bloc.

These actions closely paralleled those taken in Athens, Greece, in May when the International Olympic Committee admitted China but rejected East Germany.

Lima Woman, 54, Granddaughter Die

ASHLAND (AP)—A Lima woman and her granddaughter were killed last night in a three-car collision at nearby Hayesville.

Herman M. Gunn, Ashland County coroner, who apparently suffered a heart attack while investigating the accident, died a short time later.

Dead in the crash were Mrs. Mary J. Jarvis, 54, and her granddaughter, Mary Jo Jarvis, 13.

Six other persons, including another granddaughter, Dixie Jarvis, 14, suffered injuries.

Sheriff Frank Topper said Mrs. Jarvis lost control of her car when it hit high berm along U. S. 30. The car collided head-on with an oncoming auto and then was hit from the rear by a third.

County Chieftain Bound to Jury

POMEROY (AP)—Meigs County Commissioner Roy Proffitt, 47, yesterday was charged with shooting with intent to kill and held for the grand jury under $1,000 bond. He pleaded innocent and waived preliminary examination.

He is accused of shooting his former son-in-law, Grover Calvert, 29, during an argument last Saturday over Calvert's visitation rights to see his child now living in Profitt's home with the mother. Calvert, shot in the right side, is in Hospital in Parkersburg, W. Va.

C of C Program Preview Given BPW Club Here

5 New Committees And Objectives are Emphasized in Talk

The Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce program for the year ahead was set up by the members in their answers to the program work questionnaire several months ago. Glen Allen, the secretary, told the members of the Business and Professional Women's Club at their regular monthly dinner meeting at the Country Club Tuesday night.

After expressing the belief that the business and professional women have seen some of the work the Chamber is attempting to accomplish, Allen laid most emphasis on what he described as "some of the additional programs" that have been lined up when he developed his subject, "Plans of your Chamber of Commerce for the Year Ahead."

The Chamber board of directors, he told the business and professional women, has "approved five new and important committees aimed at improving conditions for you and your city."

These, he said, are:

- (1) Convention and Tourist Promotion Committee, which is expected to open the door to "get more of the tourist dollar." The Chamber is going all-out on this, he hinted.

- (2) Membership Committee, whose primary function is to improve members relations and increase the membership of the Chamber. He pointed out that the Chamber's expanded program "will need financial and physical support of everyone."

- (3) Health and Sanitation Committee which, he said, has for its first target about 100 out-houses inside the city limits. Sanitation, he commented, is a "must" in a modern city and reminded that in 1926 an ordinance prohibiting out-houses in the city was passed.

- (4) National and State Affairs Committee whose principal function will be to "bring economy back into government" and to "preserve the American free enterprise system." Allen declared, in discussing that he was less worried about Communism in American than he is in the "softening of the American spirit."

- (5) Safety Committee which is to concern itself with all fields—industrial, traffic, home, farming and others. Saying "I am tired of seeing hot-rods running uncontrolled over our streets," Allen declared the Chamber is going to be active in carrying out its safety program and attempt, through education, "to protect your children, your family, your friends for your sake."

THESE FIVE new facets of the Chamber program, he declared, "are but a few of those to which the Chamber is committed for the year ahead."

Allen prefaced his preview of the Chamber's plans for year ahead with this definition of a Chamber of Commerce:

"The Chamber of Commerce is the energizing and vitalizing force of the community, seeking to unite all the industrial, business, civic and social interests for the purpose of concerted action in supporting those activities which are broader than any single business of industry, but which promote the interests of the city as a whole."

As he brought his talk to a close, Allen said there are some things the Chamber would like to do but can't because "our budget and our manpower can go only so far" and suggested that "a good way for you to help solve one of those problems when you are called on to help with a civic project is to say 'Yes, I'd be glad to.'"

DURING THE DINNER hour, there was group singing with Mrs. Elizabeth Yerian playing the piano accompaniment.

Oliver Vannorsdall from Jeffersonville contributed two vocal solos that were roundly applauded by the gathering. He was introduced by Miss Grace Huston, chairman of the membership committee which was in charge of the program for the evening, and he was accompanied by Mrs. W. S. Paxson, Washington C. H. voice teacher. He sang, "This Nearly Was Mine" from South Pacific and "Ain't She Sweet."

Mrs. Howard Dellinger, the president, conducted the short business session immediately after the dinner.

The secretary's report was given by Miss Jane Jefferson and the treasurer's report by Mrs. E. C. Urton.

Mrs. William Rogers, the public affairs committee chairman, called on the BPW members for help at the Veterans Hospital at Chillicothe. She said old picture frames of any size are needed by the veterans for the pictures they paint in their educational and physical therapy program. She said any who wanted to help could call her and she would handle everything from there on.

Mrs. M. J. Whitfield, a member of the finance committee, reminded the members that the club is sponsoring a benefit card party at the Dayton Power & Light Co. auditorium Oct. 27.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Hugh Morris, Mrs. Tom Bush, Mrs. Howard Morgan, Mrs. Laura Belsford, Mrs. Elizabeth Yerian and Mrs. W. S. Paxson.

On the committee that had charge of the program were Miss Huston, chairman, Miss Virginia Crawford, Mrs. Ethlyn James, Miss Lillie Henkle, Mrs. Ella Flee, Mrs. Ruby Hensley, Mrs. Richard Fernau, Mrs. Lucy Panzla and Mrs. Roger Whipkey.

Mrs. Frank Allen Is Called by Death

Mrs. Ethel Allen, 73, of Jeffersonville died at 11 A. M. Tuesday at the Leeth Nursing Home here. She had been ill for a year.

Mrs. Allen a resident of the Bookwalter and Jeffersonville communities all her life, was a member of the Jeffersonville Methodist-Episcopal Church and the Bookwalter Ladies' Aid.

She is survived by her husband, Frank, and by two daughters, Mrs. Donna M. Hoppes of Fairborn and Mrs. Martha Robinson of Washington C. H.

Also surviving are two brothers, Frank M. Hidy of Milledgeville and H. H. Hidy of Detroit, and two sisters, Mrs. Ella Thompson, city, and Mrs. Elba Smith of Detroit.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 P. M. at the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home. Rev. W. S. Alexander, retired Methodist minister, will be in charge. Burial will be at the Koontz Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 P. M. Wednesday.

Parole Violator Rounded Up Here

Dorel Junior Whaley of near Waverly, was picked up by Sheriff Orland Hays, Tuesday and held as a parole violator.

When Whaley was taken into custody by Sheriff Hays, two bad checks were found in his possession, one for $35 and the other for $25.

Whaley had been sent up from Portsmouth for giving bad checks. He is to be turned over to officers for return to the state reformatory.

The United States had 9.7 marriages per 1,000 population in 1953.

City Manager And Engineer Hold Conference

Cost of Appraisal Of Water System Here Discussed

Acting under instructions from city council, City Manager James F. Parkinson Tuesday afternoon conferred at length with Albert Seaman, senior member of the firm of consulting engineers, Vogt, Ivers, Seaman and Associates of Cincinnati.

Seaman came here in response to a telephone call from Parkinson, who had been casting about for a firm of competent engineers with a view to ascertaining the fee for a complete appraisal of the plant of the Ohio Water Service Co. here.

Council expressed a definite interest in purchasing the water system after a break-down in negotiations over rates and an expansion of the company's facilities here with an up-ground water reservoir.

Council approved an ordinance granting a 35 percent increase in rates, with the exception of those for fire hydrants, after the proposed improvements are completed. It was the exclusion of the fire hydrants from the rate increase at which the water company balked.

The whole project was gone over thoroughly by Seaman and Parkinson, who probably will report progress at the regular meeting of city council tonight. Water company officials also expected to be at the council meeting.

Under the franchise the first step on the part of the city in seeking purchase of the plant, is to employ a competent engineer to appraise the property of the company and fix a reasonable amount as the prospective purchase price of system here.

Reports indicate that the water company officials will present a compromise proposal on rates at the council meeting.

Infant Dies Tuesday At Age of Two Days

Brandon Scott Long, two-day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Long of Xenia, formerly of Jeffersonville, died in the Greene County Memorial Hospital Tuesday at 4:30 P. M.

In addition to his parents he is survived by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dill, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. George Long of Jeffersonville.

Short services were held at the Alvin G. Little Funeral Home in Jeffersonville, Wednesday at 2 P. M., and interment made in the Milledgeville-Plymouth Cemetery. Rev. Forest Moon, former pastor of the Jeffersonville Methodist Church, conducted the services.

New Yorker Dies Suddenly In Motel

James Bent Taylor, 52, who, with his wife and two sons, James and Silas, were en route from a vacation trip to Louisville, Ky., to their home at Briar Cliff Manor, New York, died suddenly of a heart attack at the Meyer's Tourist Court about 11:30 P. M. Tuesday.

Taylor and his family had attended the CCC Drive-In Theater and apparently he was in his usual health until he was preparing for bed, when he was stricken and died a short time after a physician reached him.

In addition to his wife and two sons, he is survived by his mother and three brothers, two of the brothers residing in Texas and the other one and his mother at Louisville.

Graveside services will be held Friday at 2 P. M. at the Glasgow Cemetery in Kentucky, under the direction of the Parrett Funeral Home here.

Final Tribute Paid To Mrs. Kate Bush

Funeral services for Mrs. Kate Eastman Bush were conducted at 2 P. M. Tuesday at the Morrow Funeral Home in Jeffersonville, by Rev. Norman Newman, pastor of the Methodist Church.

The minister offered prayer, read the Scripture and led in the repeating of the Lord's Prayer. He also read Mrs. Bush's favorite hymn, "Count Your Many Blessings," and delivered the funeral sermon which was a personal tribute to Mrs. Bush.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Morrow sang "Crossing The Bar," with Miss Louise Fults playing the piano accompaniment.

The many floral remembrances were taken care of by the pallbearers, Robert, Joseph and David Eastman, Dana Kimbrell, Albert Vannorsdall and Gilbert Marshall. Interment was in the Fairview Cemetery at Jeffersonville.

Nine Picked Up Here on Tuesday

Eight speeders and one reckless operator were arrested here over Tuesday and scheduled for appearance in municipal court.

Irwin Katz, Cincinnati, was not only arrested for driving 47 miles in a 35 mile zone (Columbus Avenue) but posted $50 bond for failing to have a driver's license.

Robert A. Griffith was picked up on a reckless operation charge. Others arrested for excessive speed, and the rate of speed at which they were clocked, included:

Marion Conrad, Columbus, 45; Mary Alice Pittman, Columbus, 50; Lawrence J. Gerbus, Rosslyn, O., 44; John Floris, Columbus, 49; Harold William Patrick, Powell, 45; Evan D. Belville, Bainbridge, 47; Eugene J. Swager, Youngstown, 45.

Madison FB Council Discusses Health

A picnic supper was the highlight of the meeting held Tuesday evening by the Madison Township Farm Bureau Council. The group met in the park on Millikan Avenue here for a potluck supper.

After the picnic, Mrs. H. W. Melvin led the members' discussion of "How We Can Keep Well." They discussed nutrition, children's health and the special problems of animal diseases communicable to man. The great improvements in health brought about by the pasturing of milk were discussed too.

The problem of obtaining adequate medical and dental service for rural areas was brought up. Several of the members told of occasions when they needed medical help and were unable to get it. Public health programs were also discussed, as well as mental health.

In addition to Mrs. Melvin, 12 members attended the picnic and took part in the discussion. They were Mr. and Mrs. Leland Dorn, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hidy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allemand, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight King and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Le Beau.

Health Department Advises Parents of All First Graders

An announcement from the Fayette County Health Department today calls the attention of parents of first graders in the public schools of city and county, who will be starting to school early in September, of the advisability of certain health precautions.

It is recommended that all first graders, who have not already received such service, should have protection against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus, also vaccination for smallpox.

The health department suggests that children who have not already been treated, be taken to their family physician at once to obtain this protection.
